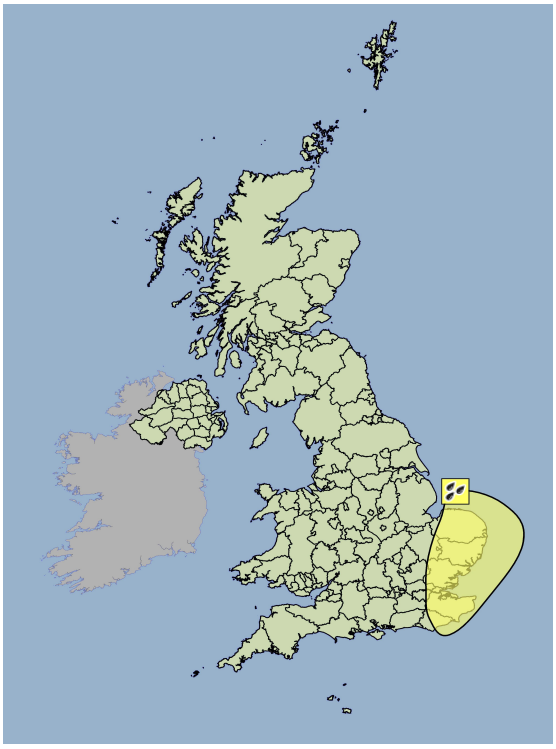
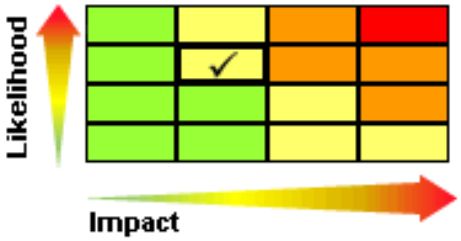
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A deepening area of low pressure is likely to pass close to southeastern England on Friday. With very warm, humid air over the region there is the potential for the rain to become very heavy during the afternoon with totals of more than 50 mm locally.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Rain

Valid from 12:00 on Fri, 08th Aug 2014 until 21:00 on Fri, 08th Aug 2014

Heavy, possibly thundery, rain is likely to affect southeastern and eastern parts of England on Friday.

The public should be aware of the risk of disruption to travel due to standing surface water on some roads.
